올해의 벚꽃도 함께

Another Year Together with the Cherry Blossoms

-Afterword

Hello, I am Subong Park.
This is one of the manhwa diaries that I drew when I was in the army.

I had my hohday from the army in late spring. I saw the cherry blossom tree in front of my house and half of the blossoms had fallen off.
He just came back for a hohday from the army.

I wanted to show the sadness
I felt then through this manhwa,

And while I was thinking about what story to create, I got inspired by the song 'First Love' from Busker Busker, who I like.

The comforting message from my girlfriend which said 'Let's be together for the cherry blossoms again this year!' helped bring this story into existence.

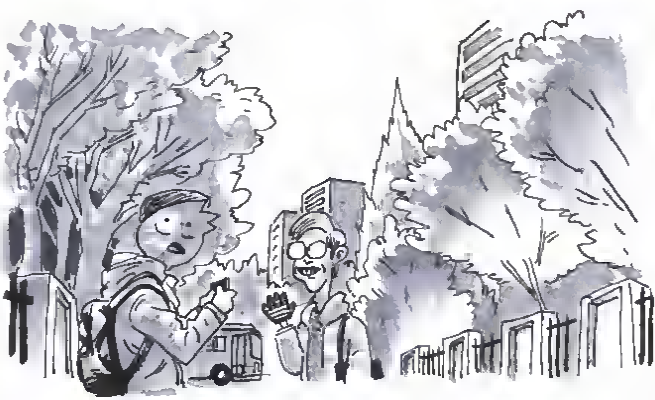
The high school student couple who I saw on Yeo Yi Do before I joined the army became the main characters.

(I wonder what they are doing now...)

I shaped up my story steadily.

I researched Yeo Yi Do area and collected information about the characters. I discovered that they have a coeducation school for middle school and separate male and female high schools nearby.

I went to that place and was certain that there was a story there.



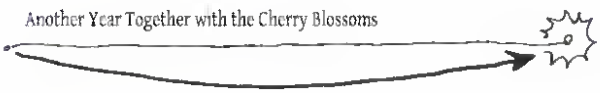
It was a pretty place.

In this artwork, I tried to show the story like a movie scenario which is different from "The Girl from Class".

The Girl from Class.

(It's like a TV drama. The plot pauses in various places and moves along!)

Another Year Together with the Cherry Blossoms

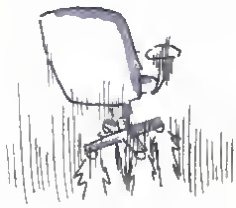


(Like a movie, just keep going straight until the end!)

And I met some guys in the army. They had acting education, and read the manhwa out loud while acting like the characters.

It was new and fun work.

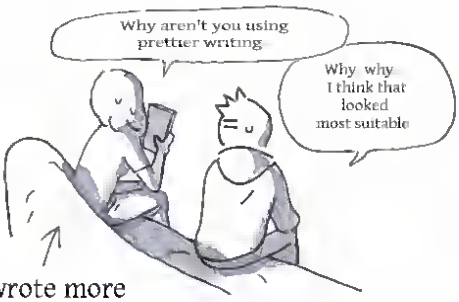
And finally (Hahaha),



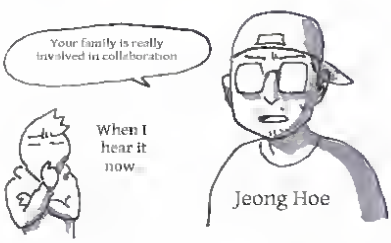
Once I was finished with the army
(I was waiting for this moment),
I started to work on this story for real... Hehehe.

All the dialogue in 'Another Year Together with the Cherry Blossoms' was written by my girlfriend enthusiastically. She drew the cherry blossoms, too.

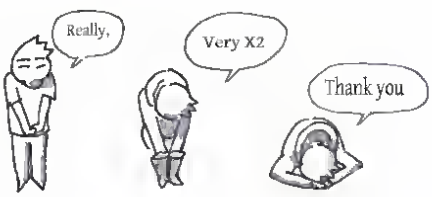
The calligraphy that wasn't dialogue was all written by my mother.



She wrote more than 400 titles.



And to my friend Jeong Hoe, who listened to my story even though he was really busy. I was to say "thank you" here.



I thank you very, very much, with all my heart.

I really, really love you with all my heart.

Right!

Jin Young, who always gave good opinions
when I was working on this artwork.

And I want to say thank you to Jae Young who went with me to research some places,
even though it was really cold.

And all the readers who read 'Another Year Together with the Cherry Blossoms', thank you very, very much.

I will study hard and come back with another good project.

The readers who remember me
even though two years have passed, and the readers who read the new manhwa
happily, I thank you with all my heart, everyone.

It made my spring happy, as I read all your precious comments and opinions.

Once again, thank you for reading 'Another Year Together with the Cherry Blossoms'.

See you next time! Pyong!

On the afterword, the Nanoom font,
which was provided by Naver, was used.
